

Sandwich, Return To Center

It's been too many nights
It's been too many nights
It's been too many fights

It's been too many years
Been too many years
Please don't interfere

It's been too many rides
It's been too many rides
I just wanna slide

It's been too many words
It's been too many words
It's getting absurd

It's been too many days
It's been too many gazes (?)
Up and aways

It's been too many cars
It's been too many stars
It's been too many scars

It's been too many towns
It's been too many towns

It's been too many clowns

There's been plenty of flash
There's been plenty to catch
There's been plenty to trash

And I can't wait to get home
I can't wait to get out of here
I can't wait to be all alone

It's been too many weeks
It's been too many geeks
It's been too many freaks

I'll be getting there soon
I'm getting there soon
Thanks to the moon

And I can't wait to get home
I can't wait to get out of here
I can't wait to be all alone

And I can't wait to get home
I can't wait to get out of here
I can't wait to be all alone
