

Sandy, Little Johnny

It's gonna be a brighter day

Bridge:

I know it's gonna be a brighter day cuz little Johnny was born today and he's gonna be the one to find us a better way

Lokking into Mama's eyes all he sees is the tears she cries don't have a clue what really lies ahead is he gonna have to find his way his gund and drugs are getting carried away these are things that keep running through Mama's head

Chorus:

I know it's gonna be a brighter day
he's gonna need a little time to grow but little Johnny's got tomorrow and I know his gonna be the one

Now listen as the siren goes by it's another mother's turn to cry oh why did we ever let the world turn so cold, no, no, no ... well, I know Johnny's gonna make a change he knows the road he's gotta rearrange to make it better for his kids when he gets old
