

Sara Evans, Why Should I Care

ohh

Why should I care if you
Found somebody new
And you look like you're in love

And why should I care if she Looks a lot like me
And she's all you've ever dreamed of

I didn't care enough to keep you around
So tell me why should I care now

I was the one who let you go
I never told you that I loved you
I couldn't promise anything
The way you needed me to
Oh, my heart was never really there
So why should I care
Why should I care
I just do

So why should I care if I meant nothing in your eyes
What you felt for me is gone
Oh, oh, and why would I feel that way
Now that's it's too late to change what I did wrong

Oh, I didn't care enough to keep you around
So baby, tell me why should I care now

I was the one who let you go
I never told you that I loved you
I couldn't promise anything
The way you needed me to
Oh, my heart was never really there
So why should I care
Why should I care
Well, I just do

Oh, my heart was never really there
So why should I care
Why should I care
I just do
Yeah
I just do
Baby, I just do ohhhh . . .
