Sara Evans, You'll Always Be My Baby

There I was ten years old waiting in my room for him to come home I just knew he'd be so mad though I begged my mother not to, she told my dad. There was no denying I let him down but instead of being angry he put his arms around me and said

In the sunlight or the rain brightest nights or darkest days I'll always feel the same way Whatever road you may be on No, your never too far gone my love is there, wherever you may be just remember that you will always be my baby.

There I was twenty one oh I was so ashamed of what I'd done on a country road parked one night it started out so innocent then crossed the line there was no denying I let God down but instead of being angry he wrapped his arms around me and I heard in the sunlight or the rain brightest nights or darkest rains I'll always feel the same way whatever road you may be on no your never too far gone my love is there wherever you may be just remember that you will always be my baby yeah yeah.

There he is my little man I'm sure he'll get in trouble every now and then and I pray to god that when he does I'll be just as understanding and my father was oh the last thing that I want to do is let him down so instead of being angry I'm gonna throw my arms around him and I'll say

in the sunlight or the rain brightest nights or darkest rains I'll always feel the same way whatever road you may be on noo your never too far gone my love is there wherever you may be
