

Sarah Bettens, Go

This is when the wall comes down
This is when I give myself to every inch of me that says it's time to go

The voice is clear, but not alone doubt had made my head it's home And I can hardly hear myself explode Someone tell me something good,
Something I can really use

Here I go, say goodbye to everything
I know, here I go, I love you till the end of time
I have to do this on my one so here, here I go On the edge of everything the start, the end, the in between but somewhere through my fear I know I'm fine Nothing like the way it's been, an open door I've never seen

And I can't help but wonder what's inside someone tell me something good
something I can really use

Here I go, say goodbye to everything
I know, here I go, I love you till the end of time
I have to do this on my one so here, here I go

Sure I guess I must be strong But what if I am just very wrong what if I don't know where I belong

Here I go, say goodbye to everything
I know, here I go, I love you till the end of time
I have to do this on my one so here, here I go
