Sarah Brightman, Harem

Burning sands, winds of desire Mirrored oasis reflect a burning fire Within my heart, unwatered, feeding the flame Welcoming you to my Harem Sing for me a song of life's visage Sing for me a tune of love's mirage Deep desires, sleep untold Whispers that echo the desert of my soul I hold your Eastern promise close to my heart Welcoming you to my Harem Sing for me a song of life's visage Sing for me a tune of love's mirage Time is change, time's fool is man None will escape the passing sands of time I hold your Eastern promise close to my heart Welcoming you to my Harem
