

Sarah Masen, Seasons Always Change

You're a vision all undone
You are the best kind of dreadful
I've ever been a part of
We're having so much fun
There are some angels in the snow dear
And in the summer we will know dear
Seasons always change
Everybody knows that everybody says that
And the sun shines through the rain
And the Wind makes us afraid don't give because we learn to love that way
You're a vision on the run
You are a change in the direction
When we are making some connections
We're having so much fun
And the angels watch the mystery
Of everyday you and me
I trust you know that I love you
Soon we will play when the cool rolls off the day
There's goodness and there's pain
And the heart goes round again
And for now it never ends
And so you take another day
Because the tenderness it breaks us
And we learn to love that way
Can we learn to love through our mistakes
Can we take our visions all the way
Is there fear that things will always change
Let it go let it go
