Sarah Masen, Sunday Afternoon

Sunday afternoon
Got some work to do
But I can't keep my mind off You
I look at where I am
I look at how I stand
And I would be nowhere without You

I fear I'm falling fast, cut by broken glass And I shattered myself inside my sorrows And I fly back to yesterday And all the time You've been holding me It's been a long, long way Reaching for that day When I will be with You forever, forever

Sunday afternoon I've got some work to do But I can't keep my mind off You
