

Sarah Slean, Looking For Someone

I've been looking for someone
But I don't know his name.
All the faces before me,
they all look the same.
But there's got to be one face,
and one pair of eyes that will light me on fire when they're looking into mine.
O looking for someone
For many good years now
I've been walking alone, but I know when I find him
it will feel like home.
When the wedding is over I'll be able to say I'm so glad I waited for this day.
o looking for someone
o looking for someone
o looking for someone
who's looking for me.
