

Sarina Paris, So I Wait

Contemplating everyday
Wondering if Im wasting all of my time
You know Im dedicating
Every thought on only you

My mommy used to taught me that
Patience is a virtue

And so I wait through the night
Cuz tomorrow you may find
That you will need me again
For some times I love and care
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover youre in love
That you need me as much as I need you

And so Ill wait all my life
Hoping one day you will see that Loves a lock youre the key
You will come and rescue me
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover youre in love
That you need me as much as I need you

It gets frustrating time and again
But I am not complaining cuz in the end
If I just keep believing no matter what Ill be with you

My mommy used to taught me that
Patience is a virtue

And so I wait through the night
Cuz tomorrow you may find
That you will need me again
For some times I love and care
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover youre in love
That you need me as much as I need you

And so I wait through the night
Cuz tomorrow you may find
That you will need me again
For some times I love and care
And so I wait hoping you,
Will discover youre in love
That you need me as much as I need you
