

Satanic Surfers, Even If Time Stood Still

My head feels like an empty shell sometimes and sometimes overcrowded
By thoughts that make no sense
I think I need to slow down
I need to rest my head on this pillow for a couple of hours
When I get up again
I'll take one step at the time
There's just too much I want to do, so many things I'd like to do and there are things I have to do but I forget to Even if time stood still We'd still be running
Trying to achieve something but we don't know what [x2]
Even if time stood still [x2]
