

Satanic Surfers, One By One

If one voice, disembodied hidden in a surging crowd of thousands start screaming soon others will follow.

We'll follow

Though I cannot foresee a better tomorrow I will not give up trying.

I will not give up!

I will not bow down to the powers of control

I'm taking back what they stole from me

My life, my dignity

won't settle for this false sense of security

We've had enough!

Staying in line has long been the norm

but we will not be scared into silence

we've had enough! People are rising...

One by one we will rise, reclaiming control of our lives.
