

Satanic Surfers, Puppet surrounded by people who make your decisions living your life like a puppet on a string you don't raise your voice you do not oppose they spit in your face but you don't say a thing soon every thought in your mind every dream, every feeling that you have will be gone forever if you don't cut those strings and start by living your life for yourself you must fight back don't live your life on your knees stand up fight back don't live your life on your knees fight back it's your life surrounded by people who are running your life they're always telling you what to do you don't say a word you do not oppose just let them take everything away from you soon every thought in your mind every dream, every feeling that you have will be gone forever if you do not break free and start by living your life for yourself
