

Satanic Surfers, State Of Conformity

Comfortable lives in a capitalist democracy feeling safe and secure until they take it away consumed by greed pacified in apathy were disinformed to fit the norm that corporations and media created stimulated but constantly unsatisfied we are manipulated to value commodities higher than justice higher than equality higher than justice our standard of life is measured by what we own subdued kept happy and blind unconsciously confined kept on your knees no one bites the hand that feeds in a state of conformity where we value commodities higher than justice
