

Saturday Looks Good To Me, Since You Stole My

I don't know what's come over me
Since you stole my heart
You've got a power that no one can see
And it reaches down to ocean
Gulls fly in circular motion
Children spinning in rollercoasters
Since you stole my heart

And every time you're close to me
Since you stole my heart
I feel an electricity
And it just won't go away
And no, I can't give it a name
And nothing seems to feel at all the same
Since you stole my heart

I walked through the graveyard
And sang to the cold stars
All the names on my dancecard
Left me standing down by the ocean
All alone and out in the open
I don't know what's come over me
Since you stole my heart.

Somebody told me that everyone's lonely
But I was the only fool there waiting
Down by the ocean
With my heart half the way broken
I don't know what's come over me
Since you stole my heart.
Since you stole my heart.
