

Satyricon, Inri

They say that you've born to the eternal kindness
And that was conceived by divine grace
That came to finish with the perversion and evil
And died on the cross to humanity save
The perversion and evil only start after you came
Because you was only a crazy liar
False saints were with you on your insanity
And the more stupids belived on you
Thieves and corrupts
Now eleited priests
They sellet pieces
Of cloth saying it were yours
The chief of insanity
Now is reigning at home
The perversion and evil
Only start after you came
