

Saves The Day, Blossom

Everything is for sale underneath the sun
send your dollars in the mail.
If you got what you want
well there's always more.
There's a sale at the store
better get there before they close the door.

Down the street there's a dog
selling socks to a frog
for a 100 dollar bill
but the bill blows away.

Goes round and round and drifts away..
All at once another day
begins blossoming right before your eyes.

Everything is for sale
so I'll sell my eyes
to a preacher who is blind,
and I'll carve off my arms
sell them to the lumberyard,
and I'll auction off my ears
maybe even pawn my fears.

Round and round and drift away
you are not what you would pay.
All at once another day
begins blossoming right before your eyes.

All is right,
tonight
All is right.

Everything is for sale underneath the sun
send your dollars in the mail.
If you got what you want
well there's always more.
Better get it before its gone
cause it all just goes..

Round and round and drifts away..
You are not what you would pay.
All at once another day
begins blossoming right before your eyes.

All is right,
tonight
All is right.
