

Saves The Day, Hot Time In Deleware

Ever think we should try to re-establish that connection
That we made during last summer's days?
Maybe should be subtle
Or maybe I should be more put
But I think we should talk about what we were going through
And I wonder what it would be like
If we had kept up that aversion
And maybe we kept listing all the people we hated
But isn't it ironic how you sitll have ideals
And I still have nothing?
And now I'm hoping that you'll change
So we can see straight some day
