

Scabs, Hard To Forget

How many times have I told you so
That you are so hard to forget
And how many times did I take the phone
And you were already in bed
Oh wow so hard to forget
Oh wow the love that we had
If only for once I could realise
This love is a thing of the past
If only for once I could see through eyes
That weren't so blind and so wet
I don't know how to justify
The things that soon will be said
And I know for sure that this love of mine is steadily driving me mad
Oh wow so hard to forget
Oh wow the love that we had
So many times that I promised you
Never a tear would be shed
So many times that I dreamed about
The beautiful love that we had
Maybe the reason is obvious
Maybe it wasn't to be
Maybe the dream will belong to us
Or fade into our memories
Oh wow so hard to forget
Oh wow the love that we had
