Scabs, Wasted

I ain't gonna wait around now
For you to come back down then try to fly away
And watch the angels drag you back down to the ground

Ain't gonna work it out ain't gonna sit back baby
And watch the pieces fall you're black and blue honey and I can See it all

All your angels can't save you now
All you've loved is wasted

Baby you can't tell me now how
Your gonna figure out some way to make the world fade down
Everything you've known is wasted

Baby better watch your back now
Now you ain't got no one on your side now and it's a
Long lonely ride to nowhere

I'm gonna pack it up now
I'm gonna get the fk out and you can tell the whole town
That I'm just a loser baby

You can spread your lies thin now
You can tell e'm anything I don't mind
And I sure as shit don't give a fk about what you have to say
