

Scaterd Few, Parental Advisory

While we're on the subject of alienation
Here's another song for the youth of the nation
While runaways unite in frustration
The suburban promise is in trepidation

Due to parents passing on sins of generations
Fears and lies and true abominations
Their lack of example is the real dilation
Of the social concore that is plaguing the system

Parental advisory - Your children are people
Not objects you treat with disdain or contempt

Parental advisory - Your children are gifts
To be nurtured and valued not just tax exempted

Parental advisory - Your children are people
Not objects you treat with disdain or contempt

Parental advisory - Your children are gifts
To be nurtured and valued not just tax exempted

Instead of being scared because the youth are getting restless
Is it possible that they only need a witness

Someone to follow
A mentor to lead
Someone convicted of creed

All they have are aging children
Lost without a master
Lead by fear and ignorance
Will surely bring disaster

Overcome your uselessness before you start to breed
Then we'll have the future with the youth our nation needs

Parental advisory - Your children are people
Not objects you treat with disdain or contempt

Parental advisory - Your children are gifts
To be nurtured and valued not just tax exempted
