

Scenes And Sirens, Everywhere I Go

Everywhere i go i take you with me since the day i met you, i knew it had to be love what else could make me act this way ill never be the same

so show me how to feel
your skin against my lips because your so beautiful your just so beautiful

It seems you fall away she whispered softly
Well you just need to know i watched you watch me so open your eyes and see me standing here i just wish you could know how you really make me feel i just wonder do you feel the same and does your heart flutter when you look my way 'cause there you are, and here i stand as my heart begins to flutter oh how i love her

Well you just need to know i watched you watch me
so open your eyes and see me standing here

Did you know, everytime i see you i need you, i find myself alone if your not near, oh can you hear me dear lets take this a little further in the hopes my heart wont stop, my heart wont stop

It seems you fall away she whispered softly
Well you just need to know i watched you watch me
so open your eyes and see me standing here

Well you just need to know i watched you watch me
so open your eyes and see me standing here
