

Sceptic, Alteration Of Destiny

Fate modification is designed as your necessity
It cannot be treated as common as invariability
Lived his boring and hopeless life so quietly, so peacefully
His presence in the future seems to be perceiving negatively
Being nameless man deprived of soul -- feeling nude
You have to force internally to change your attitude
Prepare yourself for approaching new part of you
Alter your destiny -- do what you have to do
Avoiding sensations that could bring him to a bad end
To make all his finished up plans fail -- impossible to mend
What was supposed to happen seems to look obviously Now he knows that he can change his own life continuously
Unprepared by his simplified life for higher tasks
Steering himself by putting on his twisted mask
Suddenly realized that there's another he within Creating shell over his life -- nobody can close in
Unable to come out from the crowd -- feeling completely void
Didn't need any help from outside or obstacles to avoid
Pass through his life -- abandoned by plaintive dreams
Reaching his place in this world - too hard as it seems
