

School Boy Humor, Parting Words Of Welcome

There's no hope left
You're so hopeless
And your time's left
Or at least it's leaving
Like your girl left
You're so girl-less
And your excuses
Will not save you now

Your promise ring's a liar
My eyes are growing tired
From crying of your youthful acts
Your ways show carelessness
Here's my advice to the world
Never fall in love with a girl
Who won't feel the same way in the end

You kiss the tears from my cheeks
Stop saying that you love me
It seems like such an act
I'll miss your sweet, smooth acting
You try to bring me comfort
You say that you know this hurt
Your college boy is gold
I wish he'd tarnish like me

Take this heart and make it better
Tell me that you'll stay forever
I'll be here and always waiting
Always here anticipating
(I'll go home, and I'll lose hope)
