

Scissor Sisters, Someone To Touch

How many times
Do you get a broken heart
Till you lay down and give up and die

Try to keep your love
But they don't want to give it back
He only wants to make you cry

Those boys will kill you
Cause it's the man at the top
Who'll know just how to show you what's up

You need someone to touch you
Not the boys at the bottom
They're only going to bring you down
You don't have to take it
Even when you feel like world's just a dot in the sky
We're still going to make it big
As long as love shines through
No one's going to blow us to hell

You're in my heart
Even though it fell apart
All we had to do was try

I still love you
But the pain feels funny
Now that you're seeing other guys

This boy will kill me
I've got the weed and floor singing mama
But I'm still all broke up

I need someone to touch me
I've got my walls all down
I'm coming around and I'm ready to funk
You don't have to fake it
What with you sit there drinking
And you're thinking about another guy
I'm still going to make it big
Once the sun shines through
And finally made smarter (?) than you

Those boys will kill you
Cause it's the man at the top
Who'll know just how to show you what's up

You need someone to touch you
Not the boys at the bottom
They're only going to bring you down
