

Scoffee, Outer Out

relax forget 'bout all troubles life's not a safety belt don't keep it fastened all the time run away
it's easy to pull yourself together just close your eyes
the steering wheel is yours decide when you stop

life needn't be black and white you'd better stop being passive don't waste your time it's easy to change your position take matters into your own hands hold the steering wheel very tight give yourself a chance

for your music
for your style
for your dance and
for your mind
next dimension
for a while let's dare be natural

free your mind
slow pulse down
fly away
outer out
