

Scooter, No Fate

Going back into time, blind through the night.

Remember, when it's just all over.

Taking me higher, forcing my mind, on the roof up lifting and drifting away.

From city to city, from dawn to dawn and the whole generation is on the run.

Goodbye to the past, hello to the future

as the struggle continues, there's no fate.

Someone's gonna ask you about the truth and the meaning expecting another answer to be sure he's on the right side and you're on the wrong. Do not listen, it's your decision.

From face to face, from soul to soul and the whole generation is out of control.

Goodbye to the past, hello to the future

as the struggle continues, there's no fate.

There's no fate.

There's no fate.

There's no fate.

From city to city, from dawn to dawn.

From face to face, from soul to soul.

As the struggle continues, there's no fate.

There's no fate.
