

Scott Krippayne, Long Before The Sun

Okay, I don't want to wake up today
Guess I'm just a little bit afraid
Afraid to face the mess that I left behind yesterday
Alright, after tossing and turning all night
Do I see a little sign of daylight
I think I hear the words You're speaking to me
I believe, I believe it's true
Every morning your mercies are new

(chorus)

I'll be waking up early
Long before the sun
Long before the sun
I'll be waking up early
Long before the sun
Long before the sun
To be with You

My eyes have never seen such a perfect sunrise
Guess I really shouldn't be suprised
But the way that You forgive me leaves me breathless and amazed
I know it won't be long before tomorrow
Between now and then I'll probably stumble
And I'll need Your light of grace all over again
I believe, I believe it's true
Every morning Your mercies are new

Great is Your faithfulness
I can never get enough, never get enough
And I don't want to miss
A single second of Your love

chorus
