

Scott Walker, A Face In The Crowd

Tomorrow is a face in the crowd
A leaf in the wind
A bend in the road
We're travelling

Tomorrow is a sky filled with dreams
A gift from the moon
A sea we have yet to sail
But must very soon

Will we be there together?
We should be there together
I've done moving alone
Through the miles of miles of yesterday

We're each of us a face in the crowd
Now you and I can share all there is between 'hello' and
'goodbye'

Together we can try
Together
We can
Try...
