

Scott Walker, Someone Who Cared

I saw you cry - were you frightened of darkness?
I heard you sigh - were you bored?

You never gave life a chance
You gotta give life a chance

Tomorrow came and you saved it for no-one
Yesterday's gone - you just threw it away

You never gave life a chance
You gotta give life a chance

They're only tears that you've parted with They're only fears that you had

You may not know, but there was someone who cared
Not that you noticed, anyhow
