

Scott Walker, The Me I Never Knew

The me I never knew
Begin to stir sometime this morning
The me I never knew
Appeared without a word of warning
You smiled and you uncovered
What I had not discovered
You made me, seethed me
I never knew

The me I never knew
Has learned to love and love the feeling
The me I never knew
Can see a world I've been concealing
Today a new song's playing
The words are simply saying,
"From now, I'll be the me, I never knew."

Today a new song's playing
The words are simply saying,
"From now, I'll be the same, I never knew.
