Scratchingpost, Gracie

Thought I was special to you
Thought I meant something to you
I was delusional
Mistaken as usual

You past up on something good
But somehow I knew you would
Right there infront of you
Was someone too good for you

I'll take my heart and throw it in the sand
Where no one can find it
Into the ocean even better still
Where no one can find it

You can't make me feel this way
The same low again today
You've proven yourself this time
That your not a friend of mine

And when your alone tonight
I'll know I'd done something right
For all that you've done to me
Your welcome for everything

I'll take my heart and throw it in the sand
Where no one can find it
Into the ocean even better still
Where no one can find it

I'll take my heart and throw it in the sand
Where no one can find it
Into the ocean even better still
Where no one can find it