

Scream Silence, Morphosis

sometimes turns my mind in circles sometimes stops my mind to breathe can i see you for a moment to enjoy our own apart
then i feel
something must be done with me torn the time on the quiet don't want leave you on the side a part of life is gone so fast can't believe it falls apart when i've gone my way in honour when i've found my faith in truth can i see beyond your contempt
