Screaming Trees, Black Sun Morning

When the daylight shines I'm gonna see your face Whoa yeah

Can we go back to the moments that we held before

Now I'm movin' inside to the place beyond the door

You said son it seems its time you wait

Trip into the hazy shadow crawlin' down his face

Now you can do it, don't let it slip right through

Don't let the maddest peak pick a part of you

Walk away in the dark

Too much prayin'

Too strange to sleep

Come down to my house baby

There's things you wont believe

Black sun morning

Coming up to greet the dawn

Black sun morning

Coming up to greet us all

To greet us all

Oh should I go or stay if I hear lies

I feel them burnin' me in the back of my eyes

And I see it all the time

Visions scarin' me inside

Half a simple day and night

Should I stay or should I hide

(chorus)

I can sée in her eyes

Lyin' above her

Shout it out if I'm left out

Call it now

I feel it slippin'

Through my fingers

I feel it slippin' away, away, away

(chorus)
