

Screaming Trees, Caught Between

When you walked into the room
I'd never seen your face, I'm here
On the ground with all the crawls
Into your head before the dawn
Now I'm caught between
And tired of all this pain
Hold you under but the shadows
Still remain
(Time has taken me, down)
(Time has taken me, down)
(Time has taken me, down)
When you walked into the room
I'd never seen your face before
Close my eyes to see the sky
Won't follow you there anymore
