

Screaming Trees, Lay Your Head Down

Nowhere is the soul I felt
Now I've lost my way
Nowhere is the place I view
Promise not to stay
How it was always is
Sometimes it never will begin

And it won't take very long (too long)
If you come around
If it all goes wrong
You can lay your head down

Nothing is inside the hollow shell I left behind
Nothing left of innocence
It's drifting with the tide
How it was and always is
Maybe it never will begin

And it won't take very long (too long)
If you come around
If it all goes wrong
You can lay your head down

Nowhere is the glow I felt
Now I've lost my way
Nowhere is the place I view
Promise not to stay
How I wasn't always in
Sometimes it never will begin

And it won't take very long (too long)
If you come around
If it all goes wrong
You can lay your head down

And it won't take very long (too long)
If you come around
If it all goes wrong
You can lay your head down
