

Seals and Crofts, Love Conquers All

(lyrics by Paul Williams; music by Charles Fox, 1977)
From the album ONE ON ONE (1977).

Love conquers all, so the story is told.
True love doesn't get old, it gets stronger.
Love conquers all, that's not hard to believe.
If you find it naive, still believe it when you try.

Take it in to heart, fill it up with love, offer it to someone new.
Women make it strong, have them pass it on, let them have as much as you.
Love is what you make it, how you give and take it.
First time out, just fake it. You don't have to be taught.

Love conquers all, takes the best from the worst.
Nice guys comin' in first all around us.
Love conquers all, and the love's not easy to hide.
If you let it outside, it will bounce right back to you.

Take it in to heart, fill it up with love, it will leave you in a living dream [?].
Love can make you drown, you can never tell all the things love can give.
Love is what you make it, how you give and take it.
First time out, just fake it. You don't have to be taught.

Love conquers all, be it strong and full of seed [?].
Take as much as you need, you deserve it.
Love conquers all. Could the west be won without love?
It's love that carried the wagons. Love's what happened to dragons.[?]
Yes love can handle the pieces that fall.[?]
Love conquers all. . .
