Seals and Crofts, My Fair Share (Love Theme Fro

(lyrics by Paul Williams; music by Charles Fox, 1977)
From the albums ONE ON ONE (1977) and THE SEALS & (CROFTS COLLECTION (1979).

Lost, lost as a child's first thought [?]. I must have arms to hold me. Lost without love and care. I must have my fair share. There, there is a changing word. But here is an honored promise. Justice if you're still there. I will have my fair share. Justice is a lady. Lay me down with justice in a long white gown. With a breath of love, we can share. Share, sleep with me if you dare. Celebrate my fair share.

There, there is a changing word. There is an honored promise. Justice if you're still there. I will have my fair share. Justice is a lady. Lay me down with justice in a long white gown. With a breath of love, we can share. Share, sleep with me if you dare. Celebrate my fair share.
