

Sean Hayes, Rattlesnake Charm

<!-- what you thinking of and what you do and what you think you can do what you are what you do
looking out, at ripples on the dance floor what you mean is what you get did you forget to know what the end is?
to begin clearing
looking out, at ripples on the dance floor

dream machine
did you get everything you asked for?
rattlesnake charm on the dance floor

love's rage broken page electric lights and glass-bone nights electric lines run through your minds distractions with radio contraptions pipe ashes night glasses
tick-tock hear the wind lick the window ignited you're invited grow wings sprouting from the backbone

dream machine
mister jones you don't know what you came for
dream machine

we are like those two mirrors steaming in the rain we are those two lovers holding each other's hands dream with me
