

Search The City, Talk Is Cheap And I've Got Exp

You've got some nerve and i'm a nervous wreck and you're scared to death these are fighting words i'm getting off my chest God bless you and your secrets you've got a way with words but you really need to hear this if things were better without me ever knowing the truth

these ties we'll sever so long forever i hope everything works out for you better the devil you know than the devil that you don't you said it with such a straight face, the kind i'd like to break

hey, i'm on to you they say you've got a way with words, but i could say a thing or..

first of all i know you're a liar, you already burnt that bridge over the water so let's get this story straight here's your last chance your lies can't hide your shaking, nervous hands i saved the best shots i've got for you, this is my best shot, don't move

i hope everything works out for you
