

Secret Sphere, Eternal Breathe

I have found my way to live in life, you fill me with eternal breathe, carefully warning on my shoulder

Don't leave me know or I'll just remain with a life to burn, staring at darkening skies, asking why should cloudy night,

instead of immense place to fly over on wings, forever looking back, don't feel the the joy of a light that's behind now,

I need your power inside me...

need you to wipe away my pain,

I'm waiting for you my bride, before emptiness fall over me

Now I'm entangled in this dirty it's hard to set myself and my heart free, but time will come, I'll wear

But don't leave me now, or I'll just remain with a life to burn, staring at darkening skies, asking why should I stay here, before a blind horizon, forever asking...
