

Seether, Innocence

I broke a promise now
So I'm less of a man
I'll try to remember how
So try, forget if you can
Now wash the sheets and tear my face right down of all the walls (x4)
Come on and call on me
I want to let you down
Come on and call on me
I wanna see you right now
I never wanted to bleed you
Never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, dear
I know that decadence defiles what I am
I know that innocence decides what I am
I wanna feel this pain again before I fade away (x4)
Come on and call on me
I want to let you down
Come on and call on me
I wanna see you right now
I never wanted to bleed you
Never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, dear
And now I understand
That suffering is every where
There's so much left to learn
Come on and call on me
I want to let you down
Come on and call on me
I wanna see you right now
I never wanted to bleed you
Never wanted your hand
Come on and call on me, I wanna let you down
Come on and call on me,
I want to let you down (x3)
And now I understand
There's not much left for me here
I guess it's over now
There's so much left to pay (x4)
