

Sega Sound Studio, Throw It All Away

Now wake up

Everybody tries to be straight
But things are still unchanged
It's useless to resist
Your effort will be wasted
Head straight for your goal by any means
There is a door that you never opened
There is a window with a view you have never seen
Get there no matter how long it takes

All of the darkness that dozes in the dusk
Throw it all away
No one can break you
Nobody can tear you
You live a endless lie forever
All of the darkness that dozes in the dusk
Throw it all away
You see a light where ever you go
You have to face it again
And again.... yeah

Now wake up
