"You Don't Know"

Please remember! This translation is my personal work. It is sometimes difficult to translate word for word.

You don't know, but I have lost so much time since you're not here You don't know, but I keep waiting for your return some day
You don't know, but night after night
I still keep crying for you You don't know, but you have left something here very deep in me

But I don't know what I should do with you, corazon I'm still chained to your heart in the cage of your love
