Sense Field, Running Behind

I run, I run, I run, I run...

Yeah I've run to a slow crawl
Yes I'm the one staring straight at the wall
You've seen me sky high
So low I had to die just to stay alive
This little war with myself
That I never wish it on anyone else

Turns out, no one gets left behind
Turns out
Turns out, no one gets out alive
Turns out
While everyone keeps moving on

The world comes to a stand still
Yes in a fight
Not just for your life
They'll go right for your soul
It's the loneliest place you'll ever know
Too afraid to say that you're scared
To the point that you couldn't even care

Turns out
Turns out, no one gets out alive
Turns out
While everyone keeps moving on
Not so far behind now
Is anyone really moving on
