

Sense Field, You Own Me

You say it's nothing personal
As you break out and you lay out you're whole arsenal
I fell hard for you
I count scars from you
You play with my life
And I pay with my life

Everything keeps telling me to run away
Now you own me
Everything keeps telling me to run run run
I never listen
Now you own me, now you own me

I hate it how I let it control me from so far away
I can't wait for the day
You won't be able to say
That you made me pay
With these words that you use
And the things that you say
You whisper in my ear
You bring me to tears

Everything keeps telling me to run away
Now you own me
Everything keeps telling me to run run run
I never listen
Now you own me

Goodbye forever
