

Serafin, Countries For Breakfast

How to be thankful when there's a bank full of oil and gold and food

Countries for breakfast, this is the genius of our world ending soon

Taking stages of all ages, I'll make a man out of you

Necklace of aching, bone and back breaking

Sores on all your clouds and a series of soundbites proving you're allright, mental and socially loud.

Taking stages of all ages, I'll make a man out of you

Thinking's over, I'm the re-arranger, I'll make a friend out of you, you're a stranger

Thinking's over, I'm the re-arranger, gotta try and get it all new, you're a stranger

Mountains of pressure for your own leisure, making sure you're down

This will dilute me and all but dispute these things and problems I've found

Taking stages of all ages I'll make a man out of you....
