

Serial Joe, Unintended

Wish you'd stayed the night last night,
Woke up wanting to hold you tight.
Always want but just can't be, you're all that I see.
And you take my breath away, never thought I'd feel this way.
But there's nothing left to say, I'll have to wait another day.

Had a vision, Unintended.
Their thoughts running through my head.
Fairy tales that never ended,
Hearing words I thought you said.

You smiled when I brought you here,
Whispered sweet nothings in my ear.
And what was it that you said,
As you slipped into my bed?
Never told me why you came,
Was I just another game?
Things won't ever be the same,
I'll never love again.

Had a vision, Unintended.
Their thoughts running through my head.
Fairy tales that never ended,
Hearing words I thought you said.

Had a vision, Unintended.
Their thoughts running through my head.
Fairy tales that never ended,
Hearing words I thought you said.

Hearing words I thought you said
Words I thought you said.
Thought you said.
Thought you said.
Thought you said.
You said.

Their thoughts running.

Had a vision, Unintended.
Their thoughts running through my head.
Fairy tales that never ended,
Hearing words I thought you said.

Had a vision, Unintended.
Their thoughts running through my head.
Fairy tales that never ended,
Hearing words I thought you said.
