

Serj Tankian, Falling Stars

Please raise your child today
The way that you were born to play
Way that we all disappear
Allowing us to shed our fears

Pain, your every step
When your fooled enough to wanna die
When you cry
You will find

Falling stars drain every night
Falling stars drain

Please raise your child today
The way that you were told to play
Wait til we all disappear
Allowing us to shed our fears

Pain, your every step
When your fooled enough to wanna die
When you cry
You will find

Falling stars drain every night
Falling stars drain every night
Falling stars drain

In an arrested silence
We plead to our insane gods
And their voices
In our heads
Like the silence in the woods
To stop appeasing man and his cruel culture of economic, global domination
The balance remains between
That which is sought by the few - profit
And that which is sought by the most - peace, oh peace

Go now when you
Why can't you see that I always belong to me?
Now when we
Why can't you see that you always belong...
Fall, falling stars drain every night
Falling stars drain every night

I can't believe that you wanted me so much pain
Every,
