

Serj Tankian & Mike Patton, Bird's eye

Patton:

They bind you by the sand
And by the sand in blood
Blood in their eyes
You hear their speechless cries
You seek their vengeance
For their lost sight
With their justices
There only so much lights
Look in my eye look in my eye
Bird's eye sees the world full of dark skies
Bird's eye sees the world full of flags on fire
Look in my eye look in my eye

Tankian:

The fire burns in you
Consumes your brother too
You're stumbling all the way
Karma's a ricochet
The sun that shines for you
Shines for your brother too
Fire that burns in you
Consumes your brother too
Sun that shines for you
Shines for your brother too

Patton:

Zoom out and catch a few
It's right in front of you
The view from up this high
It's like a satellite
In the distance
Watch the colours bend
On my horizon
It may never end
Look in my eye look in my eye
Bird's eye sees the world full of dark skies
Bird's eye sees the world full of flags on fire
Bird's eye open wide into the blue sky
Bird's eye open up and let it be your guide
Look in my eye look in my eye

Tankian:

The fire burns in you
Consumes your brother too
You're stumbling all the way
Karma's a ricochet
The sun that shines for you
Shines for your brother too
Fire that burns in you
Sun that shines for you
